

FIGHTER JEFFRIES AND NAVAJO INDIANS

Jeffries Has Agreed To Come
And Umpire Ball Games

THE NAVAJO BUCKS FOR DANCING

This afternoon, Col. W. H. Greer, president of the Territorial fair, received a telegram from James Jeffries, the heavyweight pugilist of the world, stating that he would be here to umpire the ball games at the Territorial fair. The citizen, heretofore, has given this information with some degree of doubt, but the telegram received this afternoon by Mr. Greer, which is authentic, proves positively that the great prize fighter and base ball umpire will attend the fair.

Indians for the Fair.
John Wetherell, the well known Indian trader, who accompanied Colonel Sellers, secretary of the fair, into the interior of the Navajo reservation to secure the wildest and best Navajo Indian bucks, has not been heard from, and his silence is a sure indication that he is miles away from mail or telegraphic facilities but that he can be counted on to be in Albuquerque, however, with a string of Indians who will give exhibitions of dancing that will open the eyes of even the old timers who are familiar with Navajo and other Indian dances.

BRUNO DIECKMANN PLEASURES CLASSICAL AUDIENCE AT ELKS

It was a select, classical audience that assembled at the Elks' opera house last night and drank from the chalice of interpretations of Master Bruno Dieckmann, of Albuquerque, of Victor's Concerto No. 23—Moderato, Ries' Suite III—Adagio and Perpetuum, and Svendsen's Romance. The numbers were not many, but each reflected well the ability of the musician. Each number also showed plainly to those who heard the concert last year the improvement made by the past winter's study. It is difficult for the untrained ear to judge the real technical ability of an artist, but one's emotions are responsive to appealing tones, and last night the death-like stillness which prevailed while the bow and strings vibrated under this young musician's touch, pealing forth music that stirred the soul, and the applause which accompanied, evinced clearly that the audience was both touched and pleased. Bruno Dieckmann is a young man of great musical possibilities.

COL. TWITCHELL BOOMING FAIR

Col. R. E. Twitchell, counsel for the Santa Fe, was in the city last night after some railroad matters and incidentally booming the Northern New Mexico Fair. The colonel says he has every reason to believe that the attendance at the fair, both in Albuquerque and Las Vegas, will be record breakers. A movement is on foot in Las Vegas at the present time to bring down a big excursion on Las Vegas day to root for the Las Vegas Blues, of which the Meadow City is very proud. In talking over conditions, Col. Twitchell called attention to the vast importance to the city of Albuquerque, as well as every other city in the territory, that a strong, working delegation be sent to the good roads convention, which meets on the first day of the Las Vegas fair. Las Vegas, Santa Fe and that portion of the territory lying north has already received a direct benefit and a great deal of advertisement owing to the construction of the road known as the Scenic Highway. Within a period of two years the road will be constructed between the two cities of Santa Fe and Las Vegas and also as far north as the city of Raton. The act of the last legislature contemplates a continuation of that road south by the way of Albuquerque. When the good roads convention meets there is small doubt but that a bill to be presented to the next legislature will be discussed and framed, having in view an entire change of the road laws of this territory. There is no reason why a road should not be constructed and paid for in the same way from the public funds that private enterprises are promoted and concluded. The construction of public roads should be let by contract and no public funds should be paid on unless the terms of the contract are complied with in the same manner that private business is contracted.

Colonel Twitchell has talked with a number of people in the city today, saying that a strong delegation be sent and that all political features be eliminated in the choice of the delegation. Some very strong papers will be read at the convention by prominent people of the territory and the east. The city of Las Vegas will take the delegation over the Scenic Highway as constructed and will give them an object lesson in good road building. Outside of the fair itself an attendance upon this convention will be very instructive and will bear good fruit.

BATTLING NELSON DEFEATS JIMMY BRITT

advantage, desperately swung two left jabs to the face. Nelson suddenly hooked his left to Britt's jaw, sending his head back. Nelson was warned for hitting and then went to a mix. Nelson landing several right and left uppercuts. Bell rang, Britt missed right and left to the jaw. It was Britt's round, although Nelson put in several stiff uppercuts just before the round ended.

Round 17—Britt peppered away with left for the jaw and Nelson forced Britt around the ring, finally went to a clinch. Nelson was twice ordered to let go and finally Jimmy put in two lefts to the body and a right to the jaw, jarring Nelson. Provisionally Nelson had scored with left twice to the body. Britt continued to hook right and left to Nelson's jaw and varied it with a stiff left to the stomach.

Nelson knocked Britt out in the 18th, the end came in a hurry. Britt had just scored on Nelson's jaw, when suddenly Nelson shot his left and right to Britt's jaw in a flash. Britt went down like a log, gasping for breath and with the blood streaming from his mouth and neck. The fatal seconds were counted off by timekeeper Harting. At the call of 10 Britt made a feeble attempt to rise, but immediately fell back, utterly defeated. Up to the time of the knock-out, Britt appeared to have the lead. There was a terrific tumult at the conclusion of the battle.

Edie Graney, the referee, after the battle, said:
"It was the best battle ever witnessed in modern times. Britt displayed the most remarkable gameness I have seen anywhere. Twice he appeared to be on the verge of collapse, but was ready for business at the beginning of the next round."
Owing to the absence of police protection the vast crowd surged pell-mell into the ring at the conclusion of the bout and a general fight seemed imminent.

FAREWELL TO THE BEGGAR PRINCE COMPANY

It was with unaccounted grief that a house full of Cordeliers witnessed the curtain fall last night on the closing performance of the Beggar Prince Opera Company. The bill was "Mikado," with a truly Japanese cast, and one of the best of the company's repertoire of fifteen operatic sketches. Mr. Wade was at his best as the Chief High Executioner, and Mr. Wade's make up in this character is one fit to kill. It is extraordinarily funny, and the "Mikado" is comic opera with a vengeance.

For ten weeks the Beggar Prince Opera Company has held forth at the Casino, with unabated interest. They opened on July 1st, with a crowded house, and eighty performances have been given to large houses, with a change of bill twice a week. So long has been the engagement and so well have the people been impressed with the members of the company, that their departure seems a rupture in friendship—the frequenters of the Casino have learned to know each member of the company by name—and many will doubtless feel a little strange when they pick up the Casino program and do not find the familiar names of Miss Hutcheson, Miss Kittie Nice, F. A. Wade and Jay P. Taylor.

But they could not remain always, and tomorrow night the Beggar Prince Opera Company is off to open its comic opera season in Arizona.

A two weeks' vaudeville engagement will open at the Casino tonight.

HALLINA MORGAN BEATEN BY HEAD AT LINCOLN

Joe Barnett's Hallina Morgan, the little mare that has been the most sensational three-year-old performing on the Great Western circuit this season, suffered her first defeat of the season at the Lincoln, Nebraska, meeting yesterday afternoon. Hallina won the first heat in the three-year-old pace, finished a close second in the second heat and was beaten by a nose in an exciting finish in the third heat. The time is not given in the dispatch telegraphing the race.

Stranger O. managed to get inside the money in the free-for-all pace, finishing third. Stranger does not seem to be in his old time form this year, although he has always managed to get inside the money. However, Hallina is sustaining the reputation of the St. Elmo stable, and this mare is giving Albuquerque more advertising than it has ever had.

The Barnett horses will be taken to Topoka, Kas., tomorrow to take part in the races at the state fair there.

DEATH OF MRS. E. I. JOHNSON THIS MORNING

Mrs. Johnson, wife of E. I. Johnson, 802 South Third street, died this morning after a prolonged illness. For more than a year she has been seriously ill, and during the past summer she spent some time in a hospital in Topoka, Kan., their former home, but receiving no lasting benefit. Mr. Johnson brought her back to Albuquerque, to enjoy the companionship of her family while life should be spared. The family was composed of Mr. and Mrs. Johnson and their daughter, Cora, and her husband, Joseph Elchar. A pathetic incident in connection with Mrs. Johnson's death today is that in less than an hour, in an adjoining room, a baby girl was born to Mr. and Mrs. Elchar, thus mingling the keenest sorrow and the brightest joy of this life in an unusual manner.

Mrs. Johnson's funeral will be held from the family home, at 2:30 o'clock, tomorrow afternoon, and will be conducted by her pastor, Rev. Wilbur Fisk.

A Rare Treat.
A rare treat will be offered the people of Albuquerque Sunday, September 10. Dr. W. R. Lambuth of Nashville, Tenn., secretary of the foreign mission board of the Southern Methodist church, will fill the pulpit of the Highland Methodist church next Sunday, both morning and evening. Let all the people hear him. The broadness of Dr. Lambuth's culture and observation, easily places him in the forefront with the great preachers of the south. Though of foreign birth, he is an American by choice, as well as thoroughly imbued with the American spirit and sympathies.
